When you have some time to think....

Let me know how you guys want to coordinate resource requests relative to RSC deployments as I'm starting to get people interested in assisting/deploying (see below). Also, I think we have to take advantage of this site (when things calm down, not now) and rotate people in to train...we didn't do it for the floods and got hammered. Cheers, Gina

Hi Natalie,

Area Command is set up down in Durango and they are managing resources for the event. I will let them know your capabilities (you're on the WERT and RSC roster so you're on the general list anyway). Also, it might be worthwhile to talk to Sarah Bahrman because she's been doing a lot of coordination between the states and command post on water issues. Thanks! Gina

Hi Gina,

Thank you for the information. I assume you are overwhelmed with people wanting to help but I also want to help with this event. I am the IOC Rule Manager for our drinking water program so I have some experience with metals data. Do you know if there is a list of people to call and if so can I get my name on the list?

Thank you,

Natalie
